FROM the SIDELINES

A "NATURAL"

So, the five Polish players (Sidelines, June 12) arrived in Melbourne last week to join Polonia, a First Division club there.

If they are as good we expect them to be — Polonia, like Prague here, is bound to become the glamor team of Victorian soccer.

The Poles might not be able to lift the team to the top this year, but by the time the season is ended they should have settled down and blended into the team.

We shall watch their results closely over the next few weeks and — should they prove me right — our top team, Prague, should invite Polonia to Sydney at the end of the season.

A game between these two sides, almost with international flavor, would draw tremendously.

Apart from interstate, both clubs, through various nationalities represented in their teams (Polonia has Scots, Englishmen and Italans besides Poles in their line-up), would get an excellent following.

I daresay a Polonia (Melbourne) v Prague would draw some 20,000 people, both in Sydney and Melbourne.

It is a "natural".

A NATIONAL LEAGUE?

Some farsighted Federation officials visualise a future all-Australian soccer competition.

Two or three teams from each State (originally) would form a National League.

Although this is not feasible for many reasons just yet, we could start on the next best thing right now.

At the end of the season the champion teams from each State could play off, cup-style, for an Australian championship, similar to the German competition.

The games would be an excellent incentive and draw more than enough to pay for air transport.

If we could launch this project successfully and gain good financial results, then the next step would be the formation of a National League.

But, first — we would have to be assured that the standards in various States were more or less equal.

Otherwise, through normal relegation and promotion system, we could finish up with 6—8 teams from one strong State and one, or even none from weaker States.

And the original principle would be lost.

ONE OF THESE YEARS

Gladesville, after a poor start early, like last year, are coming back strongly, challenging for a place in the semi-finals.

But can you imagine what could have happened if they had built their team before the competition started?

They may well decide this before the next season.

If they do — other clubs had better watch out.

PSYCHOLOGICALLY SPEAKING...

While advocating an all-Australian League I wish to stress a psychological point in favor of such a competition.

At present we have 14 local clubs engaged in a local competition.

You are a supporter of one of them.

You follow your team wherever it plays — win, lose or draw.

But if your team starts to lose more often than is acceptable to your nervous system and receives an unproportional share of defeats — what happens then?

Say, your team loses six in a row — how do you, the supporter, feel?

More often than not you are upset.

You may even be "fed up" with football for the rest of the season and you might declare, that "the standard is poor and not worth watching, anyhow".

Now, if there is an Interstate League there are only two or three clubs representing your city.

On of them is "your" club.

But you only see it play every second week.

You watch "the other" team on alternative weekends.

Gradually you are getting accustomed to supporting the two or three local clubs in the competition.

Should one of them strike a bad patch and lose a few, you'll be most likely to say:

"But my other team is doing well..."

Did it ever happen to you?

Robertson Cup closes June 30

Robertson Cup competition entries close on June 30 with the NSW Junior Secretary, Mr W. Brackenbury, 3 Keir Avenue, Hurlstone Park.

The Cup is open to all junior football clubs in NSW, matches being played on the knock-out principle in both Sydney and country districts.

Storey holds the key

Its now all up to you, Mr Storey.

The ball is at your feet — all you have to do is kick it the right way.

We challenge Messrs Storey (chairman) and Druery (secretary) of the Australian Association to call together all State delegates to meet the NSW Federation of Soccer Leagues to discuss the position of the Federation's "suspended" imported players and all other players migrating to this country.

If they do, we'll guarantes success.

Such a meeting would do much to clear the air on all this "distrubance" in soccer in this State in recent months.

MUD FLEW

A lot of mud has been thrown, with some critics joining in to fan the flying mud in hope that it would hit someone. It did!

It spattered on some of the "clean-shirts", who now are trying hard to rehabilitate themselves.

The fuss all began because of the refusal of Scottish tourists Hearts to play a Federation team which included certain players.

Attacks on the Federation became a popular pastime.

Why, we were even fighting among ourselves.

Other States got in for their chop and are still "enjoying" themselves at our expense.

The Austrian Press has declared "open season" on us.

Even our own Sydney Press ran "scare" stories.

FAILED

A certain radio commentator enjoyed himself immensely, at the same time betraying his lack of soccer knowledge.

Another tried to incite an allegedly secret racial group to "greater" things.

All failed to whip up public feeling against the Federation and certain Federation officials.

The public had the good sense to ignore these would-be moral and literary assassins.

While all this squabbling went on two men sat quietly

NEW STAR ON WAY

Hakoah signs three British footballers

Hakoah has taken a tip from a suggestion in this paper to "bring out a Briton".

Four players have been contacted and at least three will arrive within the next few weeks.

First to arrive will be Ron Kearns, who has been playing in New Zealand and starred recently against the Costa Ricans.

Kearns, an inside forward with a fine record, should provide the necessary drive in Hakoah's forward line.

Two more professional forwards from England are due to arrive shortly.

North Side United have also made a move towards consolidating their position in Division I.

Their scoop signing of five players from the strong South Coast team EPT was the soccer sensation of the week.

Strengthened by the inclusion of these classy Italian players they may be a tough proposition for Gladesville at Lambert Park this weekend.

Prague plays at Miranda

All Prague's overseas stars will be seen in action at Miranda on Sunday, July 5, when its First Division team plays against St. George to mark the official opening of a new sports oval.

As a curtainraiser, Prague's First Division third grade team, Wings, will play Sutherland.

Included in the afternoon's programme is a march past of 140 junior soccer players.

The new oval will be the home ground of Sutherland district junior team, Magpies.

PLAYERS' UNION

In a letter to "Soccer World", Canterbury's international goalie, Ron Brown, says:

"Why all the fuss about what can only be of benefit to players and football generally — a players' union.

"This is a step that must be taken if soccer is to progress on a professional basis, the trend followed by all Federation clubs.

"Unionism for players will conform to the English Union's Constitution, with provisions made to suit our own playing conditions.

"The formation of this union is for the sole purpose of obtaining close liaison between players, clubs and Federation alike.

"Any fair-minded person with football at heart can only agree that such a step is looking to the future, not only of the present players, but the lads just beginning.

"These lads will be the real benefactors and the only ones who can take Australia into world-class football."

Letters to the Editor

POLONIA MERGER URGED

In his 'Sidelines" column 12/6/59, Mr Tad Targ commented on the possibilities of an amalgamation of the Bankstown and Polonia clubs.

As a soccer follower I would like to say that is a most practical suggestion to ensure the future of these clubs.

Both clubs are struggling to stay in their respective divisions and the greatest possibility of them surviving and making good is to amalgamate.

There will be some arguments based on tradition and sentiment against amalgamation, but as far as I can see Polonia would have nothing to lose and much to gain.

Polonia has no chance at present of being promoted to First Division and could be relegated to Third Division.

Bankstown is battling hard to retain First Division status

As Mr Targ mentioned there is a big Polish population in the Bankstown district and in my opinion Bankstown—Polonia would be a mighty and popular club, not only in the Bankstown area, but in the whole metropolis.

I hope that such an amalgamation can be brought about for the good of soccer and the benefit of the paying public.

While on the subject of amalgamations, I would like to see St. George and Corinthians combine into one powerful team.

It would not be beyond such a combination to win the Second Division and gain promotion.

"Unfair criticism"

All fair-minded Victorians, who are soccer fans will deplore the unsportsman like attitude adopted by some Melbourne Press and radio commentators after the defeat of Victoria in the first of a two-match interstate series against South Australia over Queen's Birthday weekend.

The shock defeat of the Victorian team was alleged to be due to errors on the part of referee Londsdale, who other people well versed in the code considered handled the match decisively and fairly.

Perhaps Mr Landsdale's only error was that he happened to hail from north of the border, where, according to Victorian officials, only the rebels live.

Well may unbiased observers ask why constant anti-NSW Federation propaganda is tirelessly fostered by Victoria's soccer big-wigs.

In the second of the matches Victoria won by sufficient margin to retain the AFA trophy and now comes again the ludicrous assertion that in Victoria reside the aristocracy of Australian soccer.

Congratulations to your paper and your Melbourne writer for honest reporting.

Little can be gleaned from local Press reports and some radio commentators allow their suburban narrowmindedness to extend to the game of soccer.

Wake up, officials! Take a lead from the NSW Federation and conduct soccer in Victoria on a fair and sporting basis.

The present set-up may favor a few, but it does nothing for soccer beyond creating local and interstate contempt.

Pascoe Vale,

TEAM of the WEEK

Every week an A and B team will be selected from the best players in First Division teams.

The best A team player will be nominated as the "Player of the Week" and will score three points.

All other A team nominations will receive two points and B team players one point.

The player with the highest number of points at the end of the season will automatically become Player of the Year.

Ampol Cup fixtures, Federation Cup matches and the competition semi-finals, final and grand-final will not be taken into account.

Here are the players who stood out in last weekend's two rounds of matches.

"A" TEAM

Goalkeeper
A. HOURIGAN
(Concord)

Right back J. PRETSWELL (Gladesville)		Left back J. AIRD (Hakoah)
Right half P. PETERS (Corrimal)	Centre half J. PETTIGREW (Gladesville)	Left half A. DAYNEY (Auburn)
Inside right W. TAMANDL (Prague)		Inside left L. SCHAUMAN (Budapest)
Outside right B. GANIS (Balgownie)	Centre forward J. GALAMBOS (Budapest)	Outside left B. SALISBURY (Canterbury)

"B" TEAM

Goalkeeper
R. GREEN
(Bankstown)

Right back W. TAYLOR (Corrimal)		Left back C. MATTHYSEN (Sydney Austral)
Right half W. PITTMAN (Nth. Side U.)	Centre half W. WALSH (Hakoah)	Left half B. GREENFIELD (Gladesville)
Inside right A. SMIT (Granville)		Inside left R. FOSTER (Gladesville)

Player of the Week

F. DAYNEY

Auburn's right half was the best man on the field last week and his sparkling display was the redeeming feature of an otherwise uninspiring match.

His perfect ball control and dazzling positional play stamp him as one of the State's most talented wing-halwes.

This former Maltese International is likely to continue improving and should make the future representative fixtures.

This weekend's games

The North Side United—Gladesville match at Lambert Park is the most interesting one on Saturday, because the result will be have tremendous bearing on prospects of both teams.

Gladesvile needs two points to remain a semi-final prospect and North Side need them even more badly to get away from the dreaded bottom positions.

North Side will be greatly strengthened by the scoop signing of five former EPT (Wollongong) players, amongst them Varglien and Zanetti, who represented the South Coast against Costa Rica.

These acquisitions should prove very beneficial to the team, as it will now have a good forward line to go with a defence that has always played well.

North Side United wil be able to field a well-balanced team, that should have a good run of success in the second round of matches.

The inclusion of these well-known Italian players should ensure good crowds to North Side's club fixtures.

The club will be playing its home matches at Lambert Park in the thickly Italian-populated Leichhardt area.

This should prove a windfall for the hard-working North Side committee, which could start to reap the harvest after years of obscure work for the code.

I doubt, however, if these new players will be able to mould very quickly into the team and as Gladesville is a big hurdle for anyone I must favor GLADESVILLE. (

Jim Pettigrew was the best man on the ground last week and his superb cover defence had the APIA inside trio completely subdued.

Pretswell and McLelland, before his injury, neutralised the wingers, causing APIA forwards to lose touch and miss every opportunity.

Bill Hume proved his amazing versatility by successfully switching to the backs in the second half, but sharp-shooter Rex Foster was the revelation of the match.

Foster displayed a ball control and technique one never suspected him capable of and played one of his finest games ever.

Over the past weeks Gladesville have clearly shown that they are playing the best football of their carreer.

But I feel that the playing so many vital matches on their home ground — which is unworthy of First Division football — has helped them considerably.

Forwards hard task

It will be easier to assess their real strength and chances of making the semis after their matches "away" on bigger grounds.

W. Pittman was the best man on the field, with new centre forward Roman Kohlmeyer, against Austral.

Johnny Wong, though he played as intelligently as ever, missed a couple of sitters which could have swung the match North Side's way.

The forwards will face a hard task this week, but Gladesville will not be able to slacken the pace at any stage or Varglien, Zanetti and Wong will bounce right back into the game.

Sydney Austral will be revisiting MacArthur Park after three years when they meet Granville.

Their encounter should be a "no beg pardons" one.

The teams play a similar style of football and are pretty evenly matched though the visitors have a five-point lead.

Their first round game ended in a draw on a rain-soaked ground and I would not be surprised if to-morrow's clash also ended with a point to both teams.

Granville played surprisingly well to hold Prague to a level first half and is the first team which ever equalised after being down two goals to the leaders.

This is proof enough of the team's magnificent fighting spirit and potential — I say potential because the club has promising reserves and brilliant young firstgraders like McIntyre, Smith and Flynn.

Smith is a typical bullocking player and leaves the constructive work to Flynn, whose intricate footwork paves the way for many of Ray Marshall's goals.

But the lastnamed is not playing too well lately and I expect former Blackpool youngster Barry Rae to make the Firsts in the very near future.

Barry, signed last Saturday, is a 6 ft 2 ins, 24 year-old, who should burst into prominence shortly.

Bob Cuneen will be a hard obstacle for the jaded Sydney Austral forwards, who have lost all their sting.

I feel Austral's defence is good enough to check the enterprising Granville "mosquitoes", but I have little faith in the forwards who are letting the club down badly.

It is a real pity to see the fine efforts of players such as Matthysen, Osfield, and De Vries wasted so often.

Sydney Austral are still near the top of the competition, but they will surely need to improve 100 per cent on recent displays if they are to remain in the top bracket.

I think this match will end in a DRAW as both defences are excellent, and, though the Granville forwards are by quite far the better, I expect De Vries to inspire his club-mates to better things than they have been doing lately.

'Battle'

But Granville will see it otherwise and a draw would reward both teams for their efforts, unless one of them produces something out of the box.

Bankstown fans should thrill to a battle royal against Balgownie.

One cannot help feeling sad to see the erstwhile classy home team involved in such a vital game as Saturday's.

A loss tomorrow would put it in a hopless position and on the road to certain doom.

Bankstown just fails to click.

This is amazing when you realise it has only lost Val Davanzo and gained a worthy player in Barry Wainwright.

The team is just as good on paper as last year, when it was well in the running for the "first four".

But when the 1959 Bankstown team takes the field it has very rarely functioned at all, in spite of occasionnal flashes of brilliance when winger Ian Brown is in top form.

Bankstown just cannot lose this match, but as Balgownie are improving with every game this will be a "do or die" effort by both teams.

This is the time or never when Bankstown really needs the moral and vocal encouragement of all their supporters on the sidelines.

Balgownie outplayed Budapest in the second half to win their second match of the season last Sunday and this win will have given them confidence — something which Bankstown badly lacks at present.

By L. Gautier

I feel that Bankstown has no-one to match Ganis, McWatters, Barlowe or Garipoli, and too much will once again rest on Bob Madden's shoulders

I am tipping BALGOWNIE to run out the winners of an exciting and close "battle" because they are better equipped than Bankstown to force the decision.

Though Concord have improved over the past month I do not expect them to beat Hakoah at the E. S. Marks Field.

Hakoah were unconvincing in their last two games, and though Concord are very confident of upsetting their opponents, I think they are being a bit over-optimistic.

Concord have a few vital weaknesses which Hakoah will exploit.

Hourigan, Hillyard and specially talented Bruce Mac-Earlane have been turning on first class displays week after week, but the side badly needs more penetrating forwards.

Against Hakoah, the forwards will be up against one of the very best defences and will do well if they break through once.

The backs hold the clue to this game and as the Hakoah forwards can be shockingly off-form, as we have come to learn over the weeks, the final score should not be very high.

But I still think HAKOAH will win.

It will be up to the Blues' forwards and Frank Hearn so unsettled lately, in particular to determine the way victory will be achieved.

Concord's best chance lies in the hope that Hearne, Forgacs, Burgoyne and Levinson will be as listless as last Sunday.

But this could hardly happen as their form was too bad to be true, and unworthy of a club of the standing of Hakoah.

The best matches of this round are to be played Sunday and it will be hard for Sydney fans to chose between the two good games to be staged that day, so I will start with the South Coast fixture between Corrimal and Canterbury.

Last year this match would have drawn one of the biggest crowds of the year and though a substantial attendance is expected again this year, I doubt if southern fans will recognise in the visitors the great Canterbury teams of the past.

The "Berries" are now struggling and last week's 3—0 win over Bankstown was not too convincing when you consider the latter's current weakness.

The present Canterbury team is a "make shift" one, and gone are the days when the nippy forwards' clever footwork, body swerves and accurate passing delighted the crowds.

Morale 'booster'

Last week's win probably has boosted the team's morale and if Schopf can control himself and play as well as we all know he can, his could be a decisive role.

Knapp should prove a very useful acquisition.

The team's really bright spot at present is Barry Salisbury's timely return to form.

The Sydney-siders will want to win this game to retain their slender chances of making the semis, but I feel that the home-team will prove too strong on their home-ground where they only lost one game in the last two seasons.

Thus I am tipping CORRIMAL to win this game.

But Canterbury could surprise and an unexpected win for them could prove the turning-point for a second round that might take them again to the top.

APIA, third on the table, will meet Auburn, equal fourth, at Lambert Park.

The home team has lost two games on their own ground, but they play their best football on it and this match should be no exception.

I feel that you can discount both teams off-day last week.

APIA were definitely beaten by a better team last week.

They played the more spectacular soccer, but could not match their opponents' dangerous thrusts to goal.

Vasvary had his most quiet game to date and the whole forward line was scrappy.

Schio was wasted on the left wing in first half, when time and again he was unmarked, yet his team-mates persisted in passing the ball to the right wing.

Whenever the tall youngster had the ball he was dangerous and APIA may have lost the game because they did not use him more often in the first half.

If Schio is back at centre forward, Vasvary in top form again, and Turella completely fit, then APIA will test Auburn.

The visitors' defence is far from impressive, though they have one of Australia's top goalies in Henderson.

Auburn's backs are the club's only real weakness and once the energetic and over-worked Duff is beaten there is hardly any one behind.

Henderson has to accomplish countless wonders to keep the ball out of the net.

The team needs a top-class pair of full backs if it is to

OVERSEAS ROUND-UP

FRENCHMAN Raymond Kopa has signed on with European Cup finalist Rheims for the next season.

His place in the Real Madrid team will be taken by Brazilian World Cup 18-year-old "wonder boy" Pele, who is to be transfered for the world record sum of £180,000.

THE ITALIAN ARMY has won the World Cup for Army sides.

They defeated Portugal, last year's winners, in the final at Bologna, with the big score of 8:2.

But the Italian team was studded with big name Internationals and the 'unknown" Portuguese had no answer for the Italian forwards.

EUROPEAN CUP winners Real Madrid have been knocked out of the Spanish Cup semi-finals.

Their great rivals Barcelona will play Valencia in the final to be conducted on a home-and-away basis.

Barcelona have had an exceptional year, winning the Spanish premiership.

It is generally expected that both Real and Barcelona will meet in the 1960 European Cup final.

THE TOURING First Division French club sochaux, this year's Cup runners-up, are meeting unexpected opposition on their current Canadian tour.

They were beaten 6:5 by Canada in Toronto, held to a 2—2 draw by the same Canadian XI in Montreal and only scraped home 7—5 against a Montreal European team.

The European team included five former Yugoslav Internationals and former Newcastle United star, Robledo.

WEEKEND PREVIEW

play the prominent part we have come to expect from this club since the advent of the Federation competition.

Dayney proved to be a sensational "buy".

He probably has the best ball control in the team and his clash with Vasvary will be one of the highlights of the match.

The game could rise to great heights as APIA cannot afford to lose if it is to retain its confortable lead in third place.

For Auburn a defeat would be fatal and could compromise its chances.

I am tipping a DRAW and feel that such a result would satisfy both teams.

The whole Auburn forward line, with the exception of Bobby Hall, was woeful against Hakoah and Bruce Morrow missed two easy scoring chances.

He would do much better for himself and his team-mates if he passed the ball more often instead of indulging in speedy solo efforts.

Bilbey will not test Marston unduly if he does not improve on last week's showing, but I expect him to be much more bustling as there will be so much at stake.

Taken all round this match should be the most interesting of the weekend, as both teams have what it takes to stage a thrilling clash.

The first round match between Prague and Budapest produced some of the best club soccer ever seen in Sydney.

The then newly-promoted Budapest's great display caused critics to predict a humper inaugural season for the club.

Defence wilted

Unfortunately not once since this memorable Easter weekend has the club reached great heights.

Though it had a big win two weeks ago, Budapest is now in a bad spot having lost narrowly to Balgownie last week.

Balgownie deserved to win because of their fine second half display and once again Budapest's defence wilted, though now strengthened by the inclusion of Joe Csardas.

Galambos was the star of the Balgownie match and this great goal-scoring centre forward rates in my opinion on a par with Bill Hume from Gladesville.

There is still room for improvement in his game and inwards.

a few years he should prove a worthy substitute for Baumgartner in representative fixtures.

At present he is one of the top three in his position in the State.

His timing and opportunism are unique among Sydney centre forwards and when he acquires extra technique and ball control should really go places.

Schauman, for the last two games, has been playing better than he ever did this season and it seems that he is at last settling down to First Division tempo.

He was the best Second Division player last year and his welcome return to form should help Budapest.

Prague would do well to have O'Neill and Sherwin watching Galambos and his inside man, as that is where the danger will come from.

Pragu's players need no introduction as all has been said about them.

They were pressed in the first half last week, but once again run out the winners easily in the final 20 minutes.

It is hoped, for Prague's sake, that Ron Lord will be fit to play on Sunday.

Reserve goalie James was shaky against Granville and cannot afford to drop as many balls with Galambos always on the look out for goals.

PRAGUE should be untroubled to win this game as it is hard to visualise the erratic Budapest defence checking Baumgartner and company.

Halves Sherwin and Jaros are bound to give the brilliant forwards a feast of the ball and it seems that Bihary will have a torrid time in goal.

Whatever the result of this match one thing is certain — the game will be a good one and fans should see beautiful carpet-passing soccer and two of Australia's best centre forwards.

Victorian News and Views

From L. K. STONE

Victorian soccer last weekend entered the second half of its league season, with the all-Italian derby between Juventus and Geelong.

Juventus won easily 5—1, on the strength of a brilliant first half in which Barbazza 2, Scalamero, Trentini and Tomblin made the score 5—0.

In the second half, however, Juventus were contented with their comfortable lead and even allowed Geelong to score a consolation goal by the technically well equipped Ludowicz.

Others who played well for Geelong were their polished captain, Gennari, and State keeper De Francesco.

But by far the best player on the field was the tall ex-Tottenham Hotspur professional, John Tomblin, at left half, the only British player in the Juventus team.

The North Londoner gave one of the finest attacking wing half displays seen at Olympic Park this season and delighted the very disappointing crowd of about 1000.

He was well supported by Barbazza and Frangioni.

Wilhelmina defeated Yarra Park 12—0 and the score indicates the Dutchmen's superiority.

The brain of the side was De Brukeyre, who, apart from scoring himself, helped Delgeorge (4), Luyten (4), and Keuken (3), with their goals.

Yarra Park woefully weak on the day, had, however, two bright lights in Tontetos and Vlachos, who never stopped trying despite the overwhelming odds.

At the windswept Middle Park about 1500 people saw an exciting 1—1 draw between Hakoah and JUST.

Players injured

The hard-working Beattie was the first to score as a result of a doubtful decision. but 1—0 in favor of JUST at the end of the first half was a fair result.

Hakoah were without young McIvor in the second half.

He was injured just before half time.

However, the Blues 10 men played magnificently and equalised through Arthur after fine work by Blakeley and Thomas.

Hakoah's new signing Petterson, Wilhelmina's Australian and Victorian representative player — for about £300 — Hartley and Mannering were the best for the home team.

JUST were well served by class defender Reduk, Reuyters, Beattie and Schroeder.

Slavia defeated lowly Footscray 6—3 after being down 3—0 at half time.

Combining cleverly and playing with more purpose, the Czechs came back from behind to score six goals through Bell, Cooke, Terek, Riach Glennie and Gotschlich.

The lastnamed had a brilliant second half after being completely out of touch in the first 45 minutes.

Footscray did not last the distance because their players appeared to lack physical fitness.

Their scorers were Abela (2) and Reially.

Despite wet, greasy conditions, Moreland, in the first half, and George Cross, in the second half, played dazzling soccer in their exciting encounter.

George Cross won 5—4, after trailing 1—4 at half time.

In a fantastic eight-minute burst in the second half, the Maltese levelled the score with three goals.

Polish stars

Falzan (2), Catania (2) and Zammit were the scorers.

Moreland's goals were scored by Hodgson, Lauchran, Moore and an own goal by the unlucky Yunkovich.

In Sunday's match at Olympic Park before 3000 people, all eyes were focused on Polonia's new imports from Poland.

In the first half the new look team played copy-book football to lead 2—0 against Box Hill.

The Poles played delightfully, but missed several easy scoring chances.

In a surprising burst early in the second half, Box Hill drew level with two quick goals.

The equaliser was a real beauty.

Angus Drennan sent the right winger Smith on his way with a glorious pass.

He obliged by beating three Polonia players, before centering perfectly for Kenny to head past acrobatic goalkeeper Penzo, who could not be faulted with either of the other goals.

After that, the new players tired badly.

They only arrived on Wednesday, and it was left to the old boys — Wemys, Engelbogen and Guardini — to carry the Poles to their very much deserved victory.

The lastnamed player scored the winner but, despite playing well, missed many chances to score — chances that he will not get against Juventus this Sunday.

The final score was 3—2 for Polonia and this was flattering for Box Hill.

The five polish Stars, W. Janczyk, 28, R. Dronia, 23, R. Szczepanski, 24, K. Szygalski, 24, M. Gasior, 24, left Poland on the understanding that they would return after one year.

But a Polonia official told me there was nothing to stop them settling in Australia.

All five played First Division football in Poland and Janczyk, a Bathelor of Arts, represented his country against Bulgaria, Norway, and Ireland.

He also played in the B team against Russia, Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria.

"Soccer players are Born, not Made"

By C. J. PLANT

In schoolboy football, I am convinced that too much emphasis is placed on height and weight in the selection of teams.

On heavy grounds such as we encounter in seven games out of ten, these factors do count considerably, I must admit; unfortunately, this often means that the better footballers of smaller stature are overlooked, especially during their early days at school.

PART TWO

I hold the opinion that a boy should have as much ball practice as possible, using both feet, so that the leg muscles, which are still in the important stage of development, develop as the exercises with the ball require them to do.

The interested schoolboy will build up his bodily strength and stamina if he is guided into doing it by someone who can make him realise the value of such things as quickness off the mark, balance and reach.

I must admit, however, that many areas lack the facilities which will maintain and encourage such enthusiasm from the everage boy.

The ideal experience for the young footballer is to play in a team where the standard is just that little bit better than his own.

All Senior amateur clubs would do well to provide an Under 18 side, specially designed to give boys leaving school an opportunity to develop along the right lines; the main consideration with such sides should be individual development rather than the actual results af the games.

Finally cornes the problem of the inculcation of team work.

After the early stages, this should not follow a fixed pattern.

The best method is to guide the individual into a good appreciation of the situation, to teach him to come to an understanding with his collegues, and to dovetail his ideas and abilities into those of the other mernbers of his team.

in the background, awaiting the outcome with interest.

Messrs Storey and Druery sat back and waited to mop-up after all the puppets had K.O.'d each other or split into two or three groups.

Club against club, official against official, player against player, and State against State plays right into the hands of a policy of divide and rule.

There were some in the Federation who were prepared to "go along" and "fall into line", as had State administrators in past years.

The Federation could have become a lost cause, but for the few "troublemakers" — the same "troublemakers" who stood up to the old regime in past years.

But this time the "troublemakers" are playing with a winning team.

This State's problems are "growing pains", no more than could be expected in circumstances such as those surrounding the development of soccer in the last three seasons.

No other sporting organisation in this country has been asked to handle such complex problems as those associated with this multinational group.

One radio commentator even went so far as to suggest that some of the Federation's actions were not in the real tradition of British sportmanship and most 'un-Australian."

He was suggesting, of course, that the Federation was subject to anti-British or anti-Australian influences.

Nothing could be further removed from the minds of the people, whose common association within the Federation always has been the development of soccer to a standard of which Australians could be proud.

How soon?

When the whole business is over — its up to Messrs Storey and Druery to determine how soon — and we predict that the outcome will be favorable to the Federation, then the next move will be to replace the people who allowed the situation to arise.

We are prepared to state now that the players around whom all the controversy raged could have been cleared to play against Hearts had certain action been taken nine weeks ago.

Over to you, Mr Storey!
